OWNER, ANGSTROM GALLERY

Traveling between my place in New York, my home in Dallas, and hotels in Los Angeles can be chaotic. Nothing available over the counter was pure enough to make me forget my hectic days, until a friend turned me on to Soapfiend. Soapfiend Soaps are hand-made, using hemp oil, shea butter, vegetable glycerin, and essential oils. It turns an average bathing experience into a rejuvenating high. This stuff is addictive. Shop online at www.soapfiend.com.

Burt's Beeswax Lip Balm is more moisturizing and soothing than anything else on the market. I also like that they use all organic ingredients, support the environment, and recycle. I order 10 at a time and have them stashed around my house, in pockets and purses, everywhere. Whole Foods Market, multiple locations. Visit www.wholefoods.com for the location nearest you. Or shop online at www.burtsbees.com.

OWNER, FAULKNER DESIGN

I can't live without my video and audio tapes by Santa Monica yoga guru Bryan Kest. He's lovely to listen to and look at.

I like to do power yoga with affirmations and empowerment incentives while I sweat, hold downward dog, and strive for my personal best. Shop online at www.poweryoga.com.

I have to have Pacifica candles, which we have shipped from Portland. They're triple-scented with natural oils, and there's a scent for every emotion and ailment. Legacy Trading Co., West Village, 3699 McKinney Ave. 214-953-2222.
